Austin, TX – A coalition of pro-life organizations will hold a news conference today at 1:00 PM in the Speaker’s Committee Room (2W.6) in the Texas Capitol.

The organizations will highlight the coalition’s pro-life agenda for the 84th Legislature. Several House members will speak about their pro-life bills.

“This is an excellent team of legislators working to advance life in the House, and Texans for Life is honored to work with them to further protect moms and babies and reform end-of-life care in Texas,” said Kyleen Wright, president of Texans for Life.

“We look forward to working with this coalition of organizations and these legislators to protect innocent human life. We owe it to the babies, mothers, and vulnerable patients to work together to pass sound public policy that will protect and save lives in Texas,” said Joe Pojman, Ph.D., executive director of Texas Alliance for Life.

“This package of bills presented today includes critical measures to uphold the life and dignity of the human person from conception to natural death. The Texas Catholic Conference looks forward to working alongside these pro-life leaders this session,” said Jennifer Allmon, associate director of the Texas Catholic Conference.
